

DIALOGUES with Debbe – FEBRUARY 10- REFLECTIONS on the EXPERIENCE (Write-ins)
NEXT STEPS: Sharing Each Other's METHODS of RENEWAL Economic Conversation Series

At the end of each dialogue, we spend time talking about what we gained from the experience. It helps us all take-away more. In addition to the recorded discussion, participants write on the board.

Nina - Today is my listening day!

I have to leave, thanks!!

everybody has a story....

we all have potential

confidence

I found Hope and a sense of community

Take time to reflect

It was inspiring!

possibilities

Consider ways I can repackage myself to share and accomplish something significant Opportunity is always there you need to find it.

Idea to take-away
Idea(s) for ACTION
Renewed commitment

change is GOOD

There is nothing new; it is how we apply what we know in new ways.

no new ideas

change is opportunity

Passion is contagious... others will be inspired by your attitude

I'm always amazed to hear the unique experiences others have had; it bolsters my spirit.

What did you gain from being here today? Share it here!

My takeaway: we can all stand to take some time on the carpet to reflect on our own unique gifts and talents and how those might be used to benefit others. It's not so bad to acknowledge that while we may not have all of the answers to where we go in life at this particular moment, if we seek direction with integrity and with a strong desire to serve others with our talents, the direction we're seeking will undoubtedly manifest itself to us just at the time we need it.

Risk taking is fun

what was the group the last male speaker suggested? the last male speaker suggested?

Toastmasters International

Loved the positive attitudes, the lack of 'woe.'